

Please respond to and uphold the request of AOPA to restore general aviation access to Washington DC area airports.

As a flight instructor, there is disappointment at all levels of the general aviation community that although we had no part in the terrorist attacks, we are the most restricted and affected.

All of these regulations affect only the pilots that uphold them, as my students and myself do. Individuals attempting harm against our great country will do so without regard for these regulations, which serve only to restrict commerce and movement of citizens without specific security benefit to our country.
